This exciting event promises a fine-grained, up to date exploration of theoretically sound, evidence based speech assessment, differential diagnosis, goal setting, target selection, and above all, therapy for children with speech sound disorders.

Known for her speech-language-therapy.com web site Dr Caroline Bowen serves as an Honorary Research Associate in Linguistics at Macquarie University, Sydney, Australia and was made a fellow of ASHA in 2008. As well as practising as a clinician for over four decades, Caroline regularly presents workshops in Australia and worldwide. She is the author of three books on child speech, including Children's Speech Sound Disorders, published in 2009 by Wiley-Blackwell.
